

Caregiver' Respite Retreat

Dr. Robert Stern:

"Every dementia caregiver needs and deserves respite. The only way to be a successful, healthy, and truly caring caregiver is for the caregiver to take care of herself or himself. I cannot think of any better way of achieving this respite than spending time at the Stonewall Farm Bed and Breakfast. The house and grounds are breathtaking, the available treatments are ideal, and, most important, the owner and staff truly understand the needs of the caregiver. There is no place like this in the entire country!"

- Dr. Robert Stern Professor of Neurology, Neurosurgery, and Anatomy & Neurobiology Clinical Core Director, BU Alzheimer's Disease Center and CTE Center.
- Boston University School of Medicine.

"I Remember Better When I Paint":.....

Dr. Robert Stern of Boston University has been my friend and mentor for many years. Ever since my husband had been diagnosed with Early Onset Alzheimer's we have teamed up for many presentations over the years. I also, as an advocate and former caregiver of the "monster" disease called Alzheimer, have carried on my passion of educating others. My late husband Skip passed in 2010 and ever since I have continued to spread my message to a variety of professional and lay people. "I have lived it". I guarantee you a serious, factual and slightly humorous presentation.
